

WORLD PEACE DAY DECEMBER 31
ONE INTENT, ONE FOCUS

By Reverend Deborah Ann Bourbon, R. N.

World Peace Day, December 31, is a clarion call to all light workers to unite energetically to create opportunities for positive change in our world. Growing dramatically each year since its inception by John Randolph Price in 1986, it has truly become a global event. The power of World Peace Day is the power of humanity. On December 31st at noon Greenwich, 6 a.m. St. Louis time, people the world over unite in prayer and meditation for world peace. It is an opportunity to realize our oneness with our sisters and brothers throughout the world. For no matter how different other cultures may seem superficially, in truth we are all the same. We are all eternal beings of light, currently clothed in physical form, desiring to bring peace, harmony and healing to Mother Earth.

This is a monumental event in the history of humankind! Never, before World Peace Day, in our known, recorded history of humankind has such a concept ever been enacted. Never before, have beings throughout the known world consciously chosen to unite in this way for a common goal. This is a pivotal development in the progress of humanity. Just as the conquest of fire or the discovery of the wheel created opportunities for radical change in the course of humanity; so does this event demonstrate the birth of our realization of the true power that we can manifest through cooperative meditation and prayer, combining energetics to create opportunities for change. Historically, this could be the most important event of your lifetime. Basic fundamental concepts of humanity are being rewritten, are being enlarged by the actions taking place at World Peace Day.

And we are ALL able to take part in this incredible historic occasion. All it takes is a remembering of our greater potential. We are all invited to set aside personal issues and step into the moment. For as we can be of one mind, of one place, of one time, sharing our thoughts and energies towards a common goal, we create opportunities for positive changes to manifest in our world.

As we focus our vibrations for the hour of the World Peace Day Meditation, we become part of an energy gridding our planet. We link our thoughts and prayers with countless other beings, seen and unseen, who join energetically with us. As we step into this space with an attitude of love, compassion and understanding, coming from our Higher Good, we discover that we, together, can do the most good.

World Peace Day is especially profound, providing an opportunity to grid energetics for a new millennium. The prayers and thoughts you empower during this hour create a doorway to a new world. Thought begets form. We ask everyone, wherever you are, whatever your belief system, to claim your power to create a world of peace and love, with compassion and grace towards all life.

There will be gatherings throughout the city, country and planet. We strongly encourage you to seek out an event, gather with a group of friends in your home, or just pause during your busy life at this time and join energetically with others for world peace.
